

Peace of Mind Security

Yes. We had monitoring, but there's monitoring and there's business partners! Fortunately for StandOut, we found a partner in SASAA, and a damn good one at that!

Success in Security

After years of working in the security industry, Hayden Stafford became very familiar with the strengths and weaknesses offered as a service in the professional security business. It was then that Hayden Stafford saw the real need for an efficient, honest, personal and reliable security service.

Starting from humble beginnings, these core values of "Efficiency, Honesty, Personal Approach and Reliability" became the cornerstone of a security business service to succeed, and in 1999 "Security Assessment Services And Associates" (SASAA) was founded.

SASAA has enjoyed steady business growth and today, SASAA proudly maintains consistency in delivering a quality security service based on Hayden Stafford's original core values. Our customers always come first and in addition, enjoy our broad range of state of the art security solutions tailored to any given situation – small or large.

At the end of each day, what SASAA means for our valued customers is real peace of mind – our quality staff ensure it.
